FRESNO, Aug. 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The train which was beld up by masked robbers between Collis and Fresno late last night was the southbound night express, leaving San Francisco at 5:80 a.m. The exact sum contained in the messenger's safe has not been ascertained, but is thought to have been between $80,000 and $50,000. The Dalton boys are supposed to be in Idaho, and it is a conundrum to railroad officials who the parties are that were concerned in the robbery. Whoever

They covered the engineer and fireman with double-barred shot guns and announced that they had to obey their orders under penalty of death. The fireman was ordered with a lighted cigar to touch off the fuse of a dynamite cartridge which the robbers lighted eigar to touch off the fuse of a dynamite cartridge which the robbers placed on the piston of the driving wheel on the left hand side of the locomotive. The explosion which followed was terrific, breaking the piston rod and partly disabiling the engine. The robbers ordered the engineer to get off the train and walk a short distance along the track while they proceeded to bombard the two doors of the express car by exploding dynamite cartridges, about eight in all, which tore the doors into splinters and smashed the floor of the car. They entered the express car and, covering George Roberts with a double-barrelled shot-gun, ordered him to open the Wells-Farge safe. Roberts set about doing this, but was so excited and nervous that he forgot the combination, and so informed his captors, who thereupon struck him a heavy blow on the head with a gun and threatened to kill him if he did not immediately open the safe. With trembling hands he did so and they took out the sacks of coin.

PANIC AMONG THE PASSENGERS. When the desperadoes exploded the first cartridge under the engine, the passengers poked their heads out of the windows to see what was being done, but they drew them back again when they heard pistol bullets and buckshot whistling past their ears. A panic folthey heard pistol bullets and buckshot whistling past their ears. A panic followed, the passengers making a wild scramble under the seats to keep out of range of the flying missiles. The express car was shattered into atoms by the concussion. After the highwaymen had made their escape into the darkness, the engineer sent a short dispatch to the depot in this city, announcing that the train had been held up, and proceeded slowly on his way. The train arrived here at 1:30 a.m., an hour and twenty minutes late. The time occupied in blowing open the car and securing the treasure was not more than twenty-five or thirty minutes. A large crowd was awaiting the arrival of the train at the depot.

Although two men appeared to do the principal part of the work, it is believed that there were several confederates, for several buckshot were found imbedded in the rear of the last passenger coach.

A PASSENGER'S STORY.

Among the passengers was S. W. Hollister, representing C. H. Perkins & Co. of Newark, N. J. He made the following statement to a representative of the ing statement to a representative of the incomplete to get up to the tast I would be killed in fire the deep to do so. ing statement to a representative of the Republican:

"We left Collis on tims, and after we had gone about seven miles a brakeman came through the train and announced the next station would be Fresno. I stepped out on the platform and heard a bomb explode. I did not pay any particular attention to it at the time, because I thought it was a railroad signal torpedo and this belief was confirmed when the train slowed down and came to a halt. I went back to my seat and heard the reports of guns or pistols apparently fired at the coaches. It created a panic among the passengers. They got down on the floor and under seats and between seats, but the robbers did not come into the coaches. There were eight or nine bombs fired in all and half-dozen or more gun-shots."

The express messenger sustained a severe scalp wound and possibly a fracture of one of his ribs. When the door was blown-open he was hurled against the roof of the car by the force of the explosion.

THE FIREMAN'S ACCOUNT. were about six miles east of Collis when the engineer, Al Phipps, and I saw two men crawling toward us over the water tank. They were heavily armed. Each had a revolver in his belt and a shotgun hanging from a strap around them. Hold up your engine, cried one of them with an oath, and the other man ordered us to hold up our hands, both were pointing revolvers at us, and we did as we were told. We were then ordered to get off the cab and were told were about six miles east of Collis when would not be harmed if we did ordered us. The robbers then ach of us a cigar and told us to as they ordered as. Cigar and told us to smoke."

"You bet we did," answered the fireman, "The engineer was then ordered to put out the headlight and go ahead about a quarter of a mile and await. He did so. They made me get under the gang plank and fired several volleys in order. I supposed, to keep anybody in the cars from venturing out. The robbers then left the engine and went to the express car. I did not hear them ask the messenger to open the "door. So far as I know they began throwing bombs at the car as soon as they got there, losing no time is parley. I saw only two robbers, though some say there was a third. After opening the safe and taking the treasure they came down to the engine with it. "Come out," said one of them to me, and I came out. They ordered me to help them carry the money some distance down the track and hit me on the shoulders with the butt end of their guns to emphasize it. I had to obey and carried one of the bags. There were three or four in all. I don't know exactly how many. After walking several hundred yards they stopped, took the money from me and made away. I can't give a description of the robbers because their faces were entirely hidden from view by masks made from some light cloth. They wore dark clothes and one had a widebrimmed hat and the other a narrow-brimmed one. They were very determined and talked as if they meant business and would stand no fooling; so we did as we were told."

RSCAPS OF THE ROBBERS.
Engineer Phipp's account was similar.

Begineer Phipp's account was similar to the fireman's. One of the Pullman porters who was hid in a safe place on top of a car got a good view of the ground outside the angle of the car. He saw the robbers after they had secured the express treasure go to where a number of horses were standing. He could not tell how many horses there were, it being too dark. One of the men had a lamp. They did not mount immediately, but walked some distance, after which the light disappeared and nothing more could be seen of them.

It is not definitely known how many robbers there were, but it is not believed there were more than three. Most of those who came in contact with the robbers say there were only two.

Most of those who came in contact with the robbers say there were only two.

As soon as the news reached Fresno Sheriff Henzley and a posse started in pursuit, but the robbers have such a start it is thought they are well out of the way. The Wells-Fargo messenger claims that the amount of money taken will not exceed $11,000.

George D. Roberts, the Wells-Fargo express messenger, in an interview tonight, made a statement in regard to the train robbery last night. He said: "I was sitting on a high stool at my deak registering war, blik, when I heard the report of a pistol or gun, coming from the direction of the engine. I immediately turned the lights out, picked up a 45-caliber revolver and double-barreled shot gun and lay down on the floor, ready to take a shot at any one who might appear at the door. Then there was a deafening report and violent concussion that blew the door in and jarred the car like a ship thrown upon a rock. Almost im-MESSENGER ROBERTS'S STORY. report and violent concussion that blew the door in and jarred the car like a ship thrown upon a rock. Almost immediately afterward a second bomb was thrown through the doorway. The concussion lifted me off the floor and hurled me with great violence against the side of the car, and I fell in a heap in one corner, with my right shoulder dislocated and my whole body benumbed. The robbers followed this up with several other bombs and broke open the other door in the same way.

"They went about the matter in a business-like way and used few words. They wanted what we had and ordered me to take it out of the overland through safe, but that I could not open because it has a time lock and could not be opened until it arrived in the East. It would have taken at least three hours to have blown it open. I tried to get a look at the shape of their hands, but they had been blackened with something to complete their disguise.

"The statement that I took some of the sacks out of the safe and hid them in the car before the robbers entered is a mistake. I do not know how much money they got away with. There were three sacks of silver and so me gold. I have been working on and off nearly fourteen years for the Express Company, during which I have run through Arizona, New Mexico and California, and this is the first time I have ever been beld up, although I have been close to it a good many times."

Mr. Roberts's wife and family reside in Los Angeles, where his home is. He sent a dispatch to his wife yesterday not to come here, as his physicians had advised him that he could be removed to his home safely tomorrow.

Description of the Robbers-Reward Of-fered for their Conviction.

San Francisco, Aug. 4.— By the Asso-clated Press.] The following state-ment has been issued from the head-quarters of the Southern Pacific Com-pany and Wells, Fargo & Co.: Train No. 17, the Los Angeles express, when between Collis and Fresno last night, was stopped by two, or possibly more, robbets. The hocomotive and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express car were disabled by dynamite. The express messenger was badly intered and the safe broken open and robbed suppressed by the arrival of the militia....As-

ite. The express messenger was badly injured and the safe broken open and robbed of its contents.

The description of the two, robbers seen by the train men is as follows: One about 5 feet 11 inches, weight about 170 pounds; wore a large slouch hat and linen duster; had on a belt with two pistols attached; also carried a shotgin. The other was about 5 feet 9 inches, weight about 170 pounds; wore slouch hat, old brown overcoat, new overails. They had either a light buggy or spring wagon with a team of horses. One horse was shod all around. The other was shod of information that will glead to the arrest and conviction or each of the men engaged in this robbery, and all expenses for prosecution will be borne by the railway and express companies.

IN THIS CITY.

How the News Was Received—Praise o Roberts—Statements of Passengers. Southern Pacific, near Collis, Wednes day night, created a decided sensation in this city yesterday morning, and at an early hour there were callers at the offices of the railroad and express com-panies for the latest information. But little was known at either place. At the express office, a telegram was received that there had been a "held-up, the messenger slightly injured, the safe robbed and the car demoished. It is stated that no express would arrive until this morning, and that the in-jured messenger would arrive on the same train.

Manager Pridham, of Wells-Fargo, did not know the amount taken from the safe, but was of the opinion that the press dispatches exagerated it. He said the company had a standing reward of $1000 for the capture of train robbers, and that this amount would probably be increased.

THE WOUNDED MESSENGER. It was soon learned that the messen ger in charge of the car was George ger in charge or the car was reeorge Roberts of this city, and there was much uneasiness felt until a telegram was received stating that he was not seriously hurt, and would be home this morning. Roberts was raised in Los Angeles, and has many friends here, where his family also reside, and they take a pardonable pride in the manner in which he conducted himself. Roberts, who acquitted himself so creditably is 81 years of age, and has been in the employ of the express company for twelve years, for several years being on runs in Arizona and the Republic of Mexico, with headquarters at Chihuahua. About four months ago he was married to Miss Julia Rendall, and since that time they have resided in this city. Mrs. Roberts, when informed of the incipury to her busband, about 4 o'clock this morning, was greatly distressed over it until informed by officers of the company that her husband was out of danger and would be home tomorrow. Mr. Roberts also has a mother, two sisters and two brothers residing in this city. Roberts of this city, and there was much at the Arcade depot shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, several of the trainmen and passengers were interviewed, but they knew but little beyond what was contained in the press dispatches. In fact, they had no opportunity whatever to learn anything as the whole thing was done so quickly that aside from those who were brought into actual contact with the robbers did not collect their faculties until the robnot collect their faculties until the rob bors had secured their body and made their escape. All spoke in the highest terms of the manner in which Roberts conducted himself and were loud in their praises of his grit and bravery, torney, who is an old reporter and pre-torney, who is an old reporter and pre-pared a dispatch for the San Francisco press, seemed to have a better under-standing of the affair than any one in-terviewed. When the train slowed down, and a pistol shot or bomb an-nounced that train-robbers were on hand, the Colonel was seated with a newspaper sketch artist, who proposed that they seek a spot where the artist could make a sketch and the Colonel take points. The robbers were so busy blowing up the Wells Fargo express car that they did not notice the two men leave the train, and a good view of the robbers' work was had.

"From what I have read about train robberies," said the Colonel, "I am satisfied the fellows are amateurs in the business, and that the Dalton gang had nothing to do with it. To begin with, there were four of them instead of two, as has been stated. Two men did the work while one held their horses near by, and the fourth stoods near the express car with a shot gun in hand and fired one or two shots at the coaches when the passengers became too curious.

As soon as the train began to slow down he opened the treasure in his charge, and was successed himself at full length on the floor, Just at this moment a bomb was placed against the door, and the car was so shattered that the robbers had a chance to cover Roberts with their shotsyms before he could get hold of his shotguns before he could get hold of his shotguns before he could get hold of his shotgun which had been wrenched from his hands when the bomb exploded.

"The robbers then han to trouble in tenting the car. They ordered Roberts to open the way safe, which he did, and they are the way safe, which he did, and they are the way safe, which he did, and they secured several packages of coin. All the talk about the passengers being frightened to death is bosh for the reason that few of them knew what was going on until it was all over. Most of them were asleep. The whole thing occupied but a few minutes, and had not the engine been disabled by a bomb we would not have been delayed to exceed twenty minutes.

ANOTHER PASSENGER'S STATEMENT.

ANOTHER PASSENGER'S STATEMENT. W. A. McCauley was a passenger on the train. When seen at the Nadeau asked about his experience, he said:

"The first thing I beard was the short report of a firearm, which sounded sharp, like that of a rifle. Then the report was followed by another, this time plainly from the dischurge of a pistol. When I first heard the shooting I thought it was only some train signals. when I first heard the shooting I thought it was only some train signals, and when the bombs went off I fait sure of it. There was much excitement among the passengers, some of them at once dropping down on the floor below the windows to get out of the way of bullets and calling on others to follow their example. It was my first experience at being held up, but I remarked to a fellow-passenger that I supposed if the robbers came in and asked for money we would have to give them some. The conductor game through the car entering from the rear door, telling us not to be alarmed, that the robbers were evidently set on getting only the express treasure and probably would not molest the passengers. As a matter of fact, you know, with this kind of a robbery the passengers have little knowledge of what was really abstraction and we leave the search. gers have little knowledge of what was really happening, and we learned the most about the affair after it was all over. San Francisco, Aug. 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The steamer Mariposa today brought information from Honolulu of the formal annexation of John ston Island to the British crown by H.M.S. Champion. A copy of the fol-lowing proclamation was left in a secure place on the island:

H.M.S. Curacoa, which recently annexed Gardiner, Danger and Nassau islands, in the Central Pacific, returned to Sura, Flji, from Samoa June 2. The Curacoa left Apia Harbor June 20 and proceeded to the island of Tutuila with the land commissioner of Apia, Mr. Hazzard, who went ashore there to settle some land disputes and select a place for a coaling station, and sioner of Apia, Mr. Hazzard, who went ashore there to settle some land disputes and select a place for a coaling station, and the ship returned to Pago Pago Harbor. This was formerly used by the Americans as a coaling depot, but with the loss of their ships at Apia in 1889 by the hurricane, it was discontinued. England seems to intend to use it for the same purpose, as the commission has allotted a piece of land there with that design, although it may be some considerable time before the depot is ready for use.

It is not understood here how England can secure a coaling station at Pago Pago, the title for that harbor having been confirmed to the United States by the purchase of a site made by Harrold M. Sewell while United States Consul-General to Samoa. The steamer Alameda, which left here July 22 for Sydney, via Samoa, had on board Lieut. John H. Coffin from Mare Island, whose duty was to put the United States coaling station at Pago Pago in order and appoint officers and men to take charge of it.

WASHINGTON COMMENT.

WASHINGTON COMMENT,

The United Stated Has No Territorial Interest in Johnston Island.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The report that the British government had taken possession of Johnston Island, in the Pacific Ocean, does not excite much interest in official circles, for the reason that the island is of no value for strategic purposes because its supply of guano is practically exhausted. At the Department of State it is said the United States has exercised jurisdictional rights over the island since 1858, when the American Guano Company landed a party thereon and occupied it. Territorial jurisdiction, however, has never been claimed by the United States and the island has never been annexed. The United States would exert its jurisdictional rights over the island to protect the guano company in the pursuit of its business, but it is said there would be no conflict with the territorial jurisdiction set forward by any other government. In case the guano company abandoned operations on the island this Government would have no jurisdiction whatever over it. because its supply of guano is practiever over it.

RUSSELL HARRISON DEFENDED.

A Minority Report on the Yellowstone Park Leases. Washington, Aug. 4.—[By the Associ ated Press. The minority of the House Committee on Public Lands today submitted their views on the Yelle Park investigation. They take the ground that Secretary Noble acted with fairness and justice in annulling the transportation leases and that Gibson acted in a false and deceitful manner in relations with the Secretary. A most bitter attack is made on Gibson by the minority, while Russell Harrison's connection with the company is de-fended in strong terms. Yesterday it became evident that a break was imminent, a large number of strikers having gone back to work. Foreman Miles Lagel, of the mechanical department, was ordered to report with thirty men this morning. A number of strikers determined to stop them and twenty men went from Homestead to assist.

By 7 o'clock this morning 800 men gathered about the gate and as fast as the employes arrived they were ordered home. Foreman Lagel made some re-sistance and was stoned and beaten. Deputy sheriffs were hemmed in by the crowd and unable to help him. Hugh Boyce, a boss carpenter, managed to run the gauntlet and get in safely, though sharply chased. Another man also managed to get inside and then the strikers proposed to storm the works. A telegram was hastily dis-patched to Brig.-Gen. Wiley and the Sixteenth Regiment was sent on a special train. As soon as the soldiers marched up the street the strikers fell back and further violence was ended. None of the repair men would go to work this afternoon, however, being too badly frightened. LOUISVILLS (Ky.,) Aug. 4.—[By the Associated Press.] This has been a great day and night for Kentucky Democrats. The opening and dedica-tion of the new Watterson Club house drew together all the leaders of the party in the State. The Governor and staff came down from Frankfort and the Legislature was left without a quorum. But the chief feature of the occasion was the presence of Hon. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic nominee for Vice-President who came at the invitation of the Wat terson Club, and spoke both to the great oncourse of people at Liederkranz Hall and to the smaller gathering at the Watterson Club house, where he was Watterson Club house, where he was given a reception and where Watterson, in spite of his recent severe illness, of which he shows decided traces, also spoke. Flags and bunting shone every-where. The Watterson Club house was gorgeous with decorations by day and ablaze with illuminations by night. Hon. John Young Brown, Governor of Kentucky, introduced Gen. Stevenson to the immense audience. He was greeted with tumultuous enthusiasm.

to the immense audience. He was greeted with tumultuous enthusiasm. Among other things he said:

When the momentous issues that divided people and sections passed from the domain of debate and ballot to the dread arbitrament of arms, I believed with Stephen A. Douglas, that the most direct road to peace lay through themost supendous preparations for war. From the beginning to the close of the great conflict, I was for the maintenance, at whatever cost, of the Federal Union. With the restoration of the Federal Union. With the restoration of the Federal unton't I believed with the Democratic party in the North that the perfect restoration of the Union was to be wrought out in a spirit of pairiotism and not hate. With some of the States the period of reconstruction was but another name for misrule, for the political ostracism of the white rights of property and people, so monstrous as now almost to challenge belief. In a word, all that was loathsome, and all that was offensive in that which was called government in many of the Southern States, can be summed up in one word—reconstruction.

It would serve no wise purpose to revive struction.

It would serve no wise purpose to revive the memories of this era, but for the reason that we are now confronted by the startling fact that the party in power stands pledged to the resnactment of the Force Bill. History would but repeat itself. The evils that would follow the legislation now threatened would find their counterpart only in those which make up so shameful a part of the reconstruction period. In the view that I have mentioned, and the further fact that with such powerful auxiliaries as Northern enterprise and ful auxiliaries as Northern enterprise and Northern capital, the South stands upon

Northern capital, the South stands upon the threshol dot a material development unknown to this generation, can it be possible that the American people will now consent that the hands be turned back upon the dial and an era of misrule, outrage and violence again be inaugurated?

I believe the dedication of the Watterson Club house an event which may be farreaching in its consequences. Within its walls great public questions will be disdiscussed. I cannot doubt that in the pending struggle for political supremacy, and in those which are to follow, the Watterson Club will prove the faithful ally and counselor of the great historic party which came in with Jefferson and which for near a century has been the bulwark of the rights came in with Jefferson and which for nears century has been the bulwark of the rights of all people. More than all, with years will come new problems for solution, grave problems, the outgrowth of advancing civilization; problems which pertain to social government and municipal administration, which pertain, it may be, to questions of diplomacy and of war. Aye, which take hold of the very foundations of the social fabric. Let us trust that in all coming years from the hall dedicated tonight there will spring an influence and power ever for the right, ever for the defense of the unfortunate and of the oppressed; ever for that which is noble and pure at the for that whic) is noble and pure at the hearthstone and in the council, ever for the maintenance at whatever cost of our Dem-ocratic institutions and the perpetuity of the American Republic.

Speeches were made by Hon. J. Proc tor Knott, Hon. James McKenzie. Hon Boyd Winchester and Hon. Albert S Willis and othe s. After the adjourn ment of the mass-meet ng Gen. Steven-son gave a public reception. Members of the Watterson Club and guests then repaired to the clubhouse, where a repast, followed by a feast of reason and a flow of soul, awaited the Democratic brave. Watterson made an address in which he said that before the n tional convention Democrats has their choice of candidates, as was right of each to have; now that convention has made the ticket fixed the lines, they were one and all for Cleveland and Stevenson, with no longings or regrets.

Inmates of the Mill Assailed With Dynamite and Bullets.

led in the Cour d'Alene Di

Boiss Cirr (Idaho,) Aug. 4.--[By the Associated Press.] In the trial of the twenty-five Cœur d'Alene rioters today the men pleaded not guity. Only one witness was examined, John Kneebone, attempt to destroy the mill by sending a powder laden car down the steep tramway, he saw a man carrying a powder box and shortly after this an explosion occurred and the Frisco mill collapsed. He declared that he would know the man wheartied the powder. collapsed. He declared that he would know the man who carried the powder if he should see him again. After the explosion Kneebone and his comrades determined to surrender and hung out a flag of truce. Several hundred armed men had surrounded the mill. Most of the mob were union miners. They compelled the Frisco men to march to the Miners' Union hall at Gem. An hour afterward the men were placed in boxcars and taken to Wallace. Next morning Kneebone and eighty or ninety others were ordered to leave town immediately and they went to Old Mismediately and they went to Old Mis-sion. That evening fifteen or twenty men came to the Mission and com-menced to shoot and yell at the non-union men. The latter fied like sheep. union men. The lafter fied like sheep. Kneebone was fired at several times. He ran up the railroad track and took to the brush. He remained several hours in the timber and then started for the steamer landing at Old Mission, but was interrupted by four men who robbed him of all he possessed and told him to leave the country. He missed the next steamer, but caught one the following day and went to Cœur d'Alene City, and thence to Spokane.

World's Fair Lady Managers, who had been appointed to make in-quiries in regard to a silk exhibit, re-ported that efforts to collect an exhibit were attended with small results owing among silk-culturists. Considerable in-dividual enterprise was shown by the culturists in San Diego. Two societies had been formed there and both will terday trying to keep warm and get ac climated to the cool summer days, and the talk turned on California produc cincts of that horticultural exhibit that Frank Wiggins is so proud of. The gen tlemen acknowledged that the climate could go Chicago one better in the way of cool summer temperature, but were inclined to be skeptical about the "big yarns" they had heard of California fruits, vegetables, etc., and the enormous profit to be made from the cultivation of spuds, "garden truck and sich."

"Now, gentlemeu," said Mr. Wiggins, after he had told the story about the figure.

"I can give you another instance, gentlemen," continued the voluble Wiggins.
"Notwithstanding the frost and wind which, we acknowledge, damaged our orange crop badly last year, here is a man—Mr. Gilman of Anaheim and a good, straight, honest fellow too—who reports $13.000 receipts from 1800 receipts from 18

paused for breath while his wigins paused for breath while his auditors did the same.

"Here's another man," he continued as a passing zephyr supplied wind power once more, "G. L. Loud of Pomona. He has netted $2400 in the past three years from three aeres of apricots; that's not so wonderful of course, but still an income of $800 per annum from three acres int's so bad, you see."

No, the Eastern men thought it wasn't and assured Mr. Wiggins that he needn't apologize for the receipts if they were somewhat meager in comparison with the orange man's profits. "But then," objected the Boston man, "one cannot raise anything here without constant irrigation—that's a great objection."

"Yes, yes," assented the New Yorker, "it's a tremendous drawback—everything gets as dry as powder unless you keep the hose turned on continually. Why, I've been told that the fruit actually dries on the trees sometimes and is sacked and shipped to Eastern markets as genuinely cured as though dried in the oven." Here he glanced rather maliciously at the loquacious Wiggins, but he rose gloriously to the occasion. "Gentlemen," he remarked stavely, "let me call your attention to this fruit. Did you ever-see finer blackberries?" holding up a monster two inches long, and an inch and a half in circumference.

"And just sample these Burbank Japan plums, how is that for flavor?" as a general smacking of lips ensued.

"Yes, yes, those are magnificent specimes, surely," acknowledged the Chicago man, and the Bostonian nodded dignified acquiescence.

"Raised on J. Hickson's, Eagle Rock ranch, gentlemen—and without irrigation—take notice, I say without irrigation—tak

Where Tin Plate Is Made.

Maere in Plate is Made.
[Boston Journal.]
A correspondent of ours has unearthed up in Ware, Mass, a benighted Democrat who refuses to believe that tin plate is manufactured anywhere in this country. This fellow must be shire Democrats who went a voting for Andrew Jackson up to the outbreak of the war, and still persistently decline to believe that Lee has surrendered. He even makes a statement over hi own signature that "there is not a tin plate manufactory doing business in the United States." We must decline to publish this absurd assertion, for a year or two hence it might be the cause of considerable embarassment to the author to have his folly immortalized in cold type. But it is an easy matter to name a few of the more than a score of tin plate factories which the officials of the Treasury Department now report in operation. Norton Brothers of Chicago, the St. Louis Stamping Company of St. Louis, Mo.; N. & G. Taylor & Co. of Philadelphia, P. H. Laufman & Co., limited, of Apollo, Armstrong county, Pa.; the United States Iron and Tin Plate Company, limited, of Demmler, Allegheny county, Pa.; and Coates Brothers of Baltimore are six firms which are actively engaged in the manufacture of tin plate. Their special forte is business and not politics, but they would doubtless be glad to answer any query of a credulous victim of the considerable embarassment to the any query of a credulous Democratic newspapers. victim of the

There is additional reason for speedy adjournment of Congress now that the largest brewery of its kind in Washington has been burnt down.—[Pittsburgh Dispatch.

AGENCY, GOT W. Second st. Tel. 40.

A WORD OF EXPLANATION.

It is evident that, notwithstanding all the ugiy things that have been said about employment agent in the past, there are more and more people who are realizing the necessity of applying to them for help and situations, especially in Southern California. This statement is borne out by the fact that every day people are coming and writing into our office asking for terms and explanations regarding how the business is conducted. For the benefit of all such we will zive a sample case of now emterms and explanations regarding hew the business is conducted. For the benefit of all such we will give a sample case of now emission we will give a sample case of now emission which is considered to the supposition that a Mr. Smith in San Bernardiae Busposition that a Mr. Smith in Isolating over the help in his city he finds no one who suits him, and as a consequence, knowing that Petity & Hummel's is he best place to secure help, he rings up No. 3d and tells them explicitly what help with the same sample. This order defail, and is also placed on our large bulletin boards, which all of the working people read. As the office is always full of help (and our books lifted with the addresses of others,) the cooks present at once inquire regarding the cooks present at once inquire regarding the this number at once who will all the to office in the sum of the s that is the way it is done at PETTY & HUMMEL.

Sensational Suicide of Thom Beaver. His Residence on Myers Street the Scene of the Tragedy. Shot Himself in the Presence of His Wife and Daughter.

Terrible Struggle in Progress When the Fatal Shot Was Fired-No Cause Known for the Desperate

Between 4 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Thomas Beaver, who lives with his family, consisting of a wife and four children, the oldest of whom is a fourteen-year-old girl, at No. 169 Myers street, at the east side of the river, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

He gave no reason for the rash

He gave no reason for the rash act either by word or letter, and the true cause will probably never be known.

For some weeks past friends of his from the East have been visiting him and he seemed to be in the happiest possible frame of mind. He escorted them to the various places of interest in and about Lee August and when they about Los Angeles, and when they started for home yesterday afternoon he was at the depot with them, and from his acts no one would have imagined for a moment that he had ever dreamed of a moment that he had ever dreamed of such a thing as suicide.

He had been drinking in a social way with his friends, but was not drunk when he reached his home, soon after saying good-by to his guests. As soon as he entered the house he walked straight to his bedroom, after greeting his family affectionately, and a few seconds later a pistol shot was heard in the bedroom.

Mrs. Beaver grabbed her, youngest child in her arms and all four rushed from the house. A second shot was fired just as the family reached the yard. By this time Mrs. Beaver had partly recovered from her fright and she started back into the house, closely

Just as they reached the bedroom door Beaver again raised the pistol to his head and pulled the trigger but the cartridge did not explode. He was standing in the middle of the room and standing in the middle of the room and Mrs. Beaver made a rush for him and caught him in her arms. Her daughter did the same thing and for a few sec-onds the two desperate women had a terrible struggle to get possession of

This time he was successful, for the builet entered the skull on the right side just back of the ear and the miserable man sank down a corpse. In his fall he dragged the horrified women down with him. Death must have been almost instantaneous, for he had been dead some minutes when medical aid reached the house.

The body was moved to the morgue in Orr & Sutch's, where an inquest will be held this morning.

STUPID JUSTICES.

Indifference of Country Magistrates to the Provisions of the Statutes.

The supreme indifference to the provisions of the statutes evinced by some of the country justices would be indicatous but for the fact that occasionally their illegal acts afford minor criminals with the means of effecting their escape from their just deserts. A number of instances have been cited of late, in which the Sheriff has refused to accept prisoners who have been committed to prisoners who have been committed to his curtody because the commitments upon which they were held were illegal and void, and another such instance occurred yesterday. A woman named Jane Ward was sent to the County Juli by Justice L. T. House of Redondo, the commitment stating that she had been convicted of vagrancy and fined in the sum of $10, with the alternative of ten days' imprisonment. Ecction 047 of days' imprisonment. Section 647 of the Penal Code, after defining the crime of vagrancy, provides that it is "pun-ishable by imprisonment in the County Jail not exceeding ninety days." Ac-cording to the statutes, therefore, Jus-tice House had no power to impose a fine, and his judgment was void upon its face. its face.

The Strike of the Chain Gang is at an End.

The chain gang, who have been on a strike for three days past, weakened yesterday morning and ran up the white flag. THE TIMES recently published an ar ticle on the approaching 350th anniversary of the discovery of California have alarmed the engineer and fireman, and, had these men been provided with by Cabrillo, who anchored in San Diego Bay on September 17, 1542, (O. S.) and was the first white man to tread the coast of the Pacific. In the article referred to it was suggested that it would be appropriate for California to celebrate in some manner an event of such, great import to the State. After the article was written, and on the same day that it appeared, an Associated Press dispatch was printed from San Diego announcing that the citizens of that place had determined to celebrate the event on a grand scale and to invite the rest of the State to join them. From a San Diego gentleman, who was in town this week, some particulars were gathered which show that the celebration promises to be both unique and interesting.

As in the case of the World's Fair at Chicago, the date of the celebration will be changed to conform with the modern style of reckoning, and it will be held on the 27th, 28th and probably also on the 29th of September. day there will be a land demonstration. and on another a display on the bay. A ship similar to that used by Cabrillo will be constructed and will sail into the bay on the 27th. Secretary Tracy and the President have taken an interest in the project, and have promised to send such war vessels to San Diego as are available on the Pacific at the time. An effort is being made to secure the presence of one or more British men-of-war, and Democrata will probably come up from Mexico. It will be quite natural for Mexico to take an interest in this celebration, as Cabrillo sailed on his voyage of discovery from a Mexican port, to which his vessels returned after inspecting the Coast. He was a Spaniard and Lower California formed a portion of is discovery. Encouragement is expected from the State Government and from the State Society of Pioneers. The Santa Fé railroad company has promised greatly reduced rates to San Diego and it is hoped that the Southern Pacific will follow suit. A steamship will probably be chartered to run from San Francis touching at coast ports, where sufficient passengers offer themselves. All the rovernors of the United States and nany of the leading men of the Nation will be invited. One of the unique attractions promsed is an old-fashioned Indian village of tule wigwams, such as Cabrillo saw when he sailed along the Coast. It will e arranged by Father Ubach, the wellknown Catholic priest. Among the Indians will be two old squaws, aged respectively 120 and 130 years. The inance Committee, which is gathering funds for this celebration, is said to be meeting with great success. The San Diegans hope that the entire State will join in the celebration. The fact that San Diego was the first point touched at by Cabrillo in what is now the State of California makes that an appropriate | But, true to the strange fatuity which lace for the celebration

Robbed in the Regular Way.

A train robbery on the regulatio plan has again been consummated and with flattering success to the operatives. This time it is in our own State and enough Los Angeles people were concerned in it to make it seem very close at home. A description of the "hold-up," which occurred near Fresno late Wednesday night or early Thurs day morning, is given in our telegraphic columns. The methods of procedure are so well known from reports of prerious robberies that they seem almost tereotyped. As the train was pulling a lonesome way station two masked men boarded the tender of the engine, covered the engineer and firemen with revolvers and thus captured the train. The rest of the proceeding -stopping the train at a convenient place, blowing open the express car with dynamite bombs, terrorizing the messenger, shooting random volleys from their guns and pistols to keep the passengers quiet, and pressing the trainmen into service to help make off with the swag—are all in the off with the swag-are all regular order. The amount of the robbery is not stated definitely, and it may be anywhere from $10, 000 to $30,000. It was enough, at any rate to reward the robbers somely for their few hours' work. They have escaped and their capture is a matter of uncertainty, lalthough no doubt thousands of dollars will be expended in the effort.

We speak lightly of the manner in which this robbery was conducted, no because we undervalue the seriousness of the situation, but because we be wings over Buzzard's Bay. The latest news from Homestead is that the Amalgamated Association wants to arbitrate. This proposition will strike many people as analogous to the story of the man who, having a quarrel with his neighbor, poisoned his dog, threw stones through his windows, trampled all over the turf on his lawn and scared the baby into fits by making faces at it, and then wanted to discuss the matter in a neighborly and friendly spirit.

the matter in a neighborly and friendly spirit.

But while the Amalgamated Association has clearly forfeited any right or claim to arbitration, it is not so certain that the Carnegie Company may not deem it best and most expedient, in view of the future of the steel and iron-making industry in the United States, to discuss questions of wages and hours of labor with the labor unions, either in their corporate capacity or as collections of individual workmen. It is much better for all concerned that peace and harmony should prevail than that operations should be resumed under an armistice only, which may be broken at any time.

One thing, however, it is safe to say the Carnegie Company will insist upon, and that is that it will make no contracts for labor with a labor union as such. It may discuss moot points with the Executive Committee of the Amalgamated Association, but when it comes to hiring man and making labor against the contract of the c to hiring men and making labor con-tracts it will deal with individuals. It tracts it will deal with individuals. It can do nothing else. Its recent experience has shown it that it cannot afford to deal with an organization which can order out 3800 workmen because 800 of them are not satisfied. It can deal to better advantage with the 3500 men who are satisfied than with the 800 who are not, and it will doubtless insist, under any circumstances, on the right of the corporation to employ such labor as it prefers.

Sympathetic Strikes. [New York Tribune.]

If the Amalgamated Association will not or cannot carry out the contracts it asks employers to sign, but breaks them or suffers them to be broken at them or suffers them to be broken at any time, does not the association thereby serve notice that an employer cannot rely upon the contracts it may propose, even if accepted and signed in good faith? The position taken, in ordering or permitting these sympathetic strikes, would seem to be peculiarly destructive of the claims of the association as a proper agent to act for the men. But the case is even worse when men who are at work under other contracts between labor organizations and tracts between labor organizations and other employers, are ordered to strike though between themselves and their employers no grievance has arisen The contractors erecting a great build ing in Chicago or elsewhere, hoping to secure themselves against inter-ruption of work, had entered into a contract with organized labor to do cer-tain work on certain terms. One morn-ing the men are asked to handle the same steel beams they have been hand ling, and they refuse on the ground that the firm which has been all the time supplying the material they were ex-pected to use has failed to agree with its workers. This is obviously a violation of their contract, and excused by no fault whatever on the part of thei employes. Does it appear to organ-ized workers that such violation of con-tracts are rightful, or that they will help the workers in making other contracts in future? In a time of excitement and strong feeling not a few mistakes may be excused, but it is not to the interest of organized labor to deprive the workers of the control of the public sympathy, or to destroy confid-lence in the readiness of the organizations to keep the agreements they make. For their own interests it would seem that they ought to frown upon e no occasion on their own part to have no occasion on their or disregard their agreements.

For Mr. Hill and Tammany Hall Mr. Harrity has no love, or even respect. As a Cleveland idolator he does not dare have, lest he might some time be sent, inshriven, to the political boneyard. Therefore, after Mr. Harrity has been put in charge of the campaign, and par-ticularly when he begins to tell Messrs. Murphy, Croker, McLaughlin et al. how the campaign in this State should be conducted, we may expect to see signs of great harmony. The Cabinet Question—England
Formally Annexes Johnston Island,

HONOLULE (H. I.,) July 27, 1892.— [Special Corresponence to TRE TIMES.] Owing to the political cliques in the Legislature not being thus far able to come to an agreement upon the personnel of a new cabinet and an equita ble division of the spoils, the vote of want of confidence lately introduced against the present ministry was rather unexpectedly laid upon the table on July 21, awaiting a new factional deal. It is now evident that unless two or more of these political factions, by courtesy called parties, succeed in pooling their claims to office, the presen cabinet, bad as it is, will likely remain cabinet, bad as it is, will likely remain.

Claus. Spreckels is still here using every endeavor to construct a new cabinet that will suit him, and upon which he can unite a majority of the Legislature, but thus far he has schemed without success. He left for the Island of Maul, where his plantation is situated, on July 26, and took with him as guests several prominent members of the Legislature. This junketing trip will last about a week or ten days, and it is believed by some that a new cabinet will follow the return of the party to Honolulu.

THE WORLD'S FAIR APPROPRIATION. The World's Fair appropriation, which will soon come up in the Legislature, is quite likely to meet with strenuous, if not fatal, opposition from the natives and their leaders. It has lately developed that the commission-ers, who will recommend the appropria-tion of $40,000 for the Hawaiian ex-hibit, are backing a scheme to use govhibit, are backing a scheme to use government money for advertising the business of the Volcano House Company and Oahu Railway and Land Company, and thereby secure these corporations, respectively, tourists and settlers. The Volcano House Company proposes to use a big slice of the appropriation to run a cyclographic panorama of the volcano cyclographic panorama of the volcano at Chicago, while the other company at Chicago, while the other company proposes to spend its share in booming the merits of the country and its lands especially, without reference to the real facts at present staring Hawaii in the face. Unless the native members of the House are fully satisfied the money will be legitimately used, there is great probability of no appropriation being made.

A PINANCIAL SCHEME. The bill introduced by the Minister of Finance to impose a duty of 20 cents a pack upon playing cards has passed a third reading. The bill was strongly opposed by the clearest-headed men in the Legislature and it was pointed out to be an open violation of the Reciprocity Treaty with the United States. During the debate members asserted Hawaii was on the verge of national bankruptcy and it was also asserted that the bill was the handlwork of an incompetent crank (Minister Widemann) and would do the country more harm by threatening the good relations existing with the United States than harm by threatening the good relations existing with the United States than would be secured by the paltry sum of a few thousands of dollars of extra

A LEGISLATIVE CURIOSITY.

A legislative curiosity, known as Horner's Banking Bill, introduced by the noble for the island of Hawaii, is one of the funny things of the session. one of the funny things of the session. It is the old "rag" money proposition renewed in Hawaii. Noble Horner only claims as new his "combination of live principles," which he declares to be so applied that "a bank organized as this bill provides could never be broken." The present dull times have brought Mr. Horner and his bill to the front with hopes that it adonted a financial. It is the old "rag" money proposition renewed in Hawaii. Noble Horner only claims as new his "combination of live principles," which he declares to be so applied that "a bank organized as this bill provides could never be broken." The present dull times have brought Mr. Horner and his bill to the front with a plea that if adopted a financial millennium would soon follow here. The old gentleman, who has absolute and childlike confidence in his scheme, innocently declared the other day, that "The Newspaper of the Future," is innocently declared the other day, that under his bill "a run upon the bank would make money plenty and the bank rich. The more money drawn from it the richer it would become."

AN OPIUM SMUGGLER'S APPOINTMENT. It will be remembered, from the acounts of the Pacific Coast newspapers that A. W. Whaley, one of the opium smugglers of the famous yacht Halcyon, took up his residence in Honolulu several months ago, where he has since been living like a king or government official, on the fat of the land. The official, on the fat of the land. The suspicion long prevalent that Whaley and the Queen's favorite, Marshal Wilson, were hand in glove in the profits of opium galore, is again rife from the fact admitted by the Attorney-General that at the request of Marshal Wilson, A. W. Whaley had been appointed with others as special policemen to serve on last election day without pay. Many believe that not only Wilson, but even the Queen has extended her confidence to Whaley, as he has become a welcome and constant visitor at the palace. It is thought that the late severe criticisms, indulged in by members of the Legislature, on the police department of the kingdom, were the cause of the resignation of Attorney-General Whiting from the cabinet, General Whiting from the cabinet, which took place July 32, but has not as yet been accepted by the Queen. NEEDY MECHANICS.

Every outgoing steamer carries away as many of the foreign mechanical and as many of the foreign mechanical and laboring classes as are able to raise passage money, while many are anxious to go who have no means. The matter was brought to public notice on July 19 by a petition introduced in the house by Representative Bush, from needy mechanics of Honolulu, asking aid from the government to help them to "leave the country on account of hard times."

PROPOSED GENEROSITY.

On July 26 a resolution was introduced into the house by Representative R. W. Wilcox, which provides "that the sum of $200,000 be inserted in the appropriation bill, to be paid in Hawaiian government bonds to the corporation that shall first complete an interoceanic canal at Panama or through Nicaragua." The resolution developed considerable support, and was referred to a special committee, which was also empowered "to investigate if it is advantageous for this kingdom to enter with those countries or corporations proposing to lay an inter-ocean cable joining with those islands."

ENGLAND ANNEXES JOENTSON ISLAND.

ENGLAND ANNEXES JOHNTSON ISLAND After an absence of a fortnight or more, H.B. M.S. Champion returned to Honolulu July 25. During her absence the Champion formally took possession of Johnston Island in the name of Queen Victoria. Johnston Island is situated some 700 miles southwest of Honoluin, and in former days was frequently visited by whalers for water and repairs. It is alleged that at one time the island belonged to the Hawaiian government and on July 26 Noble Dreier inquired in the House: 1. "Is the cabinet aware of the occupation of Johnston's Island by the government of Great Britain through H.B.M.S. Champion? 2. Is not Johnston's Island a part of the dominion of this kingdom! B. Has any protest been made by this government against that occupation!"

THE TORACCO INDUSTRY.

A proposition lately made to ex-periment in tobacco growing as a prob-able Hawaiian industry has disclosed able Hawaiian industry has disclosed the fact that years ago a tobacco plantation was started on the island of Kauai by a firm of practical cigar men from Cuba. It then cost over $20,000 to prove that Hawaiian soil and climate were unfit for producing a good commercial article of tobacco. The fact is that the more was experiment. were unnt for producting a good commercial article of tobacco. The fact is that the more we experiment the more emphatically are we taught that the Islands are unfitted for the development of most small industries. Sugar and rice, and probably coffee, are successfully cultivated, but only on a profitable basis by men of large capital or credit. Hawaii is hardly the country for the average American farmer, unless he can live by absorbing the fine climate and placing his trust in "tourist advertisements." This fact should be carefully noted by the people of the Pacific Coast, as several of these advertising schemes are on foot to "boom" the islands abroad in the most approved fashion, or in other words, without explaining that there is a very shady side to Hawaiian industries and undeveloped resources when viewed from an economic standpoint.

The decision of the Supreme Court affirming the judgment of Judge Van Dyke in the case of J. F. Dehail et al. (respondents) vs. W. E. Morford et al. (respogdents) vs. W. E. Morford et al. (appellants,) an action to enjoin defendants from selling certain land belonging to plaintiffs for a delinquent street assessment, was received from headquarters yesterday by Deputy Clerk Ashmore for filing in this city. In his opinion rendered therein Justice Harrison, with whom Justices de Haven and Paterson concur, says:

The city of Los Angeles adopted an ordinance July 8, 1889, for the widening of First street from the west side of Los Angeles street to the west line of Alameda street, for which certain lands were to be taken, and the costs, damages and expenses thereof to be paid by, an assessment monthly the proceedings were had under the ordinance, culminating in an assessment to be controlled to the controlled the proceedings were had under the ordinance, culminating in an assessment to the controlled to the paid by an assessment to be defended to be due on a note, appealed from City Justice's Court.

Caroline Mondon executrix, vs. A. C. Shafer et. al., suit to foreclose a mortification of $22,000.

his opinion rendered therein Justice Harrison, with whom Justices de Haven and Paterson concur, says:

The city of Los Angeles adopted an ordinance July §, 1889; for the widening of First street from the west side of Los Angeles street for the west line of Alameda street, for which certain lands were to be taken, and the costs, damages and expenses thereof to be paid by, an assessment upon other lands to be benefited thereby. Further proceedings were had under the ordinance, culminating in an assessment upon certain lands bordering upon the improvement, which was placed in the hands of the defendant, Morford, as Street Superintendent of the city, for collection; and the defendant, having advertised for sale and being about to sell for the purpose of satisfying said assessment certain lots of land belonging to plaintiffs, this action was brought to restrain him from making the sale. Defendant answered the complaint, setting out the proceedings leading up to the assessment and his proceedings thereunder; and upon motion of plaintiffs the Court rendered judgment in their tavor upon the pleadings, perpetually enjoining defendants from making this sale. From this judgment defendants have appealed.

After quoting section 2 of the act of March 8, 1889 (Stat. 1889, p. 70.) and the city ordinance under which the proceedings for widening the street were had, the Court continues:

This (the ordinance) is not in compliance with the provisions of the above section of

and the city ordinance under which the proceedings for widening the street were had, the Court continues:

This (the ordinance) is not in compilance with the provisions of the above section of the statute, but a resolution, "specifying the exterior boundaries" of the district to be assessed to pay the cost of the improvement. The only boundaries of the district which are "specified" are the lines of First street, between Los Angeles and Alameda streets, and these, instead of being the "exterior boundaries" of the district to be assessed, are only the boundaries of a tract within the district which is exempted from assessment. There is nothing in the description of the district from which its extent in either direction from First street can be ascertained. or by which any one can determine the quantity of land which is to be assessed.

A very obvious reason for this requirement of the statute is that each owner of property within the district may be informed of the extent of the territory which is to be art the burden of the improvement, and thus by calculating the relative burden upon himself determine whether the burden to be borne by himself will be so disproportionate to the benefit of the improvement that he can make suitable representations to the City Council when it comes to act upon the ordinance in pursuance of its resolution of intention. While each owner of property may know the depth and area of his own lot within the district, he is not presumed to know that of the other lot owners, and, consequently cannot know the relative proportion of the expense which he will be called upon to bear, and cannot intelligently make any objections before the Council to the extent of the district of lands to be effected or benefited by said work or improvement, which by section 4 of the statute he is authorized to make any have considered by the Council and one of the steps to be taken by its before it can have a jurisdiction in the matter, and it is a fundamental principal in proceedings of this character that eve ment, and afterward protested against the report of the commissioners. If the City Council failed to acquire jurisdiction of the subject matter of the improvement, it could not acquire jurisdiction by the consent of the plaintiffs, much less by the fact that they objected to the improvement. It was said in Hewes vs. Reis (40 Cal. 263.) "the right to appear before the board and object cannot certainly excuse the performance of those acts which are conditions preceded to the exercise of the power, nor does this right of remonstrance possess the least semblance of a remedy for a wrong that may be committed notwithstanding the protest, and the actual appearance and protesting cannot have any greater effect for the purpose of conferring jurisdiction than the unexercised right of so appearing and protesting.

directions to the Court below to dismiss the action.

Section 1170 of the Penal Code expressly provides that exceptions may be taken, and it is to this we must look for a solution of the question raised in this case. That section provides that exception may be taken, first, in disallowing a challenge to the panel or to an individual juror for implied bias; second, in admitting or rejecting testimony on the trial of a challenge to a juror for actual bias. So that a challenge to a juror for actual bias cannot be excepted to.

Counsel for the people contends that section 1064, in providing that a challenge to the panel must be made in the same form and determined in the same manner as if made to a juror, excludes an exception to the panel for actual bias. But this does not follow. The question of bias in the officer is heard and determined in the same manner as that of a juror by the trial court, but what exception the Appellate Court will hear is quite another matter, and its solution must depend upon the construction we put upon the first clause of section 1170.

From a careful review of the testimony I fall to see that the officer disclosed such bias as would disqualify him to sit as a juror in the case. He knew nothing about the merits of the case and was not prejudiced against the defendant. It is true he says he is opposed to saloons, but if that test were to disqualify a juror in this case so also would be disqualified the juror who said he was in favor of saloons.

HE trade of this house is gaining more rapidly than any three houses in this city; there is not one particle of doubt upon this point. You get the right treatment in every respect. Money is refunded at all times if you are in the least dissatisfied with your purchases. Our special sales are of real merit; first-class goods are offered at prices that bring the crowds; it is dollars in your pocket every special sale you attend. We have no desire to build up a temporary trade. We are working for good will and popular favor for the manner in which this business is conducted. Trade the past five weeks almost double over one year ago. Monday our special sales will be of unusual merit. All-wool Dress Goods; worth a dollar, for 55c, and plenty of other goods in the same proportion. It will draw the crowds, as do all our special sales. In the meantime we call your attention to the fact that the Shoe Department is being rapidly closed out; all shoes at prime factory cost. Inside of two weeks the carpenters will tear out the Shoe Department and then the Cloak Department takes the place of shoes in addition to the room we now occupy-it will be the largest cloak room in this country, and we expect to very largely increase the sales in this department. We are working with an object in view-it is the upbuilding of this business. Buy shoes now while the assortment is complete; going entirely out of shoes, not adding a dollar's worth, When the Shoe Department is closed we can pay more attention to cloaks. Read . Sunday's TIMES—it will be the greatest offering we have ever made; it will pay you to carefully read it and then come and see for yourself. Gaining trade; gaining good trade by offering good goods at a very low price.

NOW WE

ARE clearing out our Summer stock regardless of cost. We don't carry over any goods. Our Mr. Zobel is going East to select our Fall stock. All goods on hand must be sold before his return. The prices put on them will and must sell them. Every thing in the house reduced.

Wonderful :: Cures DR. WONG:

713 South Main Street, - - Los Angeles, California.

The above are two fac similes of many REWARDS OF MERIT or DIPLOMAS of PROPESSIONAL SKILL which have from time to time been awarded to the CELEHRATED CHINESS PHYSICIAN, DR. WONG, for his superior medical abilities and curative powers.

It has long been customary among the Chinese people when one becomes sick and when repeated attempts to cure him have failed, and he is serthaps given up to die, if, after having been taken to an eminent physician, he be deep this disease—the cured, too indition to the regular fee for professional services renered, makes the physician a present as a token of gratitude for his restoration to health and the predoration of his life. This present consists usually of a broad plants, presenting much the appearance of a sign-board, filled with characters entirely meaningless to the average English scholar, but full of meaning to the successful physician and his friends. It is a motto which high the thing that the physician for his great skill in effecting a cure of the disease which once afflicted the dimension thing to see a great number of these COMPLIMENTARY DIPLOMAS adorning the office outles of Chinese physicians in their native country, and indeed a number of the most successful one; in this country are the happy possessors of a few of these high tokens of very superior medical ability.

Mr. Wood Takes His Pen in Hand and Writes.

The Star Even Dares to Venture an Assertion.

Meeting of the Local Republican Club Last Night.

Prohibitionists Elect Delegates to th County Convention—Eastern Star Festivities—Tendis Notes— Personals-Brevities.

The article printed in THE TMES yester-day bearing on that $10,000 special school tax, which succeeding years will prove to have been just as needless as it was special, has caused ex-Trustee J. W. Wood to pen a few lines on the subject. Even the Star, which for obvious reasons—before the re-cent election—straddled the fence in a manner wonderful to behold—this day com plimenting Mr. Boynton and the next heap-ing fulsome praises upon Dr. Van Slyck---dares go so far now as to assert that The TIMES' statements are "totally misleading" and that they would lead those "unacquainted with the facts to strongly suspect that every member of the School Board under which the tax was voted must be a that every member of the School Board under which the tax was voted must be a precious rascal."

Of course nobody but the Star would suspect anything of the sort and it wouldn't dare say so—at least before election time. But let Mr. Wood's pen throw some light on a dark subject. Here is whathe says:

"When the amount was asked it was not stated that such sum was either asked for or needed for the current school term; on the contrary it was more than once stated that about $6500 was the amount expected to be used. As it was deemed best to avoid an annual school-tax election to make up absolutely unavoidable deficiencies the larger amount was decided upon. Of this amount it is now probable that af least $3000 will be used this year. As to the matter of calling for but the required portion of this suin of $10,000 this year and the balance as needed I believe I approached the District Attorney on this subject some months ago and suggested the proposition in order to make the burden as light as possible upon the taxpayers. Of course it is unfortunate that this cannot be done, but the result will be the same in the end. Now, if the present Board of School Trustees believe that they can get along without any of this special tax, why, as a matter of course, they need simply ask that it be not levied, and doubtless the Board of Supervisors will listen to their tale, and perhaps even the kickers will be happy—for a little while."

The facts of the matter are, as nearly as

The facts of the matter are, as nearly as can be learned from a disinterested source, about this way: Last term, after school had been in session about six months, the board was confronted with a probable shortage in its treasury credit of about $0000, or an amount equivalent to two months' teachers' salaries. One-half of this the board should have foreseen. The other half seemed to be a question of surpremacy between the State Controller and the Smite's attorney. The former declared that certain school funds, usually distributed, could not this year be appropriated at all owing to a new system of tax collection. A six or seven months' term seemed too short for good service and numerous bugbears were held up to the board in this connection. The directors then decided that $0000 was indispensable, and, not caring too into the coming year without a dollar, and to depend upon what seemed to be a very uncertain State appropriation, a call was made for a special tax of $10,000.

Immediately, however, upon this being voted, the board was informed that the $300 in dispute between the two State's officers would be allotted to us. They have thus come through the year only short about $3000 on the last term. And yet it now seems that they might have squeezed through without any special tax at all. The about $3000 on the last term. And yet it now seems that they might have squeezed through without any special tax at all. The school census this year will give us $2500 more State money than we had last year.

What The Times proposes to show in due course of time by actual figures, is that the schools will be run the coming year at over $4000 less in teachers' salaries' alone, which, in connection with the additional appropriation, will do away with any more special taxes—all reports and statements of a few non-believers to the contrary notwithstandling.

If the signs of the times are rightly interpreted, the present school board is unless that the properties of the contrary notwithstandling.

terpreted, the present school board is un-der bond to the electors to run the schools with less money and not less efficiency. The less money is settled; the matter of efficiency the end of the school year must

Some of the younger players have arranged to give a tennis tournament today at the Walnut street court. Play will begin at 9 o'clock with men's singles, and handsome first and second prizes will be twarded. The entries include Harold Channing, Paull Fife, Charlie Groesbeck, Charlie Knight, Lou Freeman, Don McGlirray, Fred Roche, Rob Rowan, Ver Picher, 3us Ruggles, Ben Page, Fred Nash, Rob Collingwood and Charlie Hovey. Lunch will be served at noon. Friends of the players are invited. Some exciting contests are anticipated.

A well-attended meeting of the Harrison TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

There being little business to transact, the time was chiefly taken up in speechmaking. Judge H. W. Magee was first on the floor. The speaker cordially thanked the Republicans of Pasadena for their unanimous and unswerving support during the campaign just closed. Although he had lost the fight, the Judge said he was still a Republican, and that he would cast his ballot in favor of Mr. Lindley. He further made a motion, which was unanimously approved, that the Club attend Mr. Lindley's ratification meeting in Los Angeles tonight. Later in the evening Judge Magee said he did not feel at all sore over the result, and that he would be glad to see all his friends pitch in and help elect the nominee. His remarks elicited considerable enthusiasm.

all his friends pitch in and help elect the nominee. His remarks elicited considerable enthusiasm.

Mr. Adams of New Haven, Ct., who is visiting in town, in response to repeated calls, made a brief and pointed address that met the approval of all present. He had been a Republican all his life, and hoped to die in the faith. He laid special stress on the importance of united efforts in the coming campaign in local as well as national issues.

C. C. Brown also spoke briefly, but to the point. He had favored the candidacy of Judge Magee, but now that Lindley had been nomin-ted, he was for him tooth and nail. He favored carrying out the fight at the primaries, and then let the best man receive the unanimous support of all the factions. District Attorney McLachian spoke in a similar vein, paying high tribute to President Harrison's administration as well as to his belief that in Mr. Lindley the people in this Congress District have nominated their strongest and best man. John G. Rossiter made one of the happiess speches of his life, in which Mr. Lindley figured as the hero, and remarks of a similar order followed on the part of Mr. Kernaghan and Mr. Brown. The meeting then adjourned. It is likely that numerous members of the club will attend the ratification meeting tonight.

A Good Showing for the City's Prosperity Meeting of the Rediands Trustee The "Suspected" Mexican Discharged—Notes

According to the statement of the County Superintendent of Schools. G. W. Beattle, of the bonded indebtedness of the school districts, there have been issued in San Bernardino county school bonds to the amount of $459,850, a majority of them bearing interest at 8 per cent. Of this indebtedness but $47,150 has been paid, bonds amounting to this sum having matured. This leaves an indebtedness of $412,700. The interest on this indebtedness, after deducting the premium paid on bonds, amounts to about 10 cents for every $100 valuation of taxable property in the county. But the results in the nature of school work are so good that no complaint is heard. SAN BERNARDING.

A Suggestion That Bloodhounds Be Used in the Chase—Gov. Markham Asked to Offer a Reward for Torres's Capture-Local Notes.

SANTA ANA.

"Has Torres been caught?" was a ques-ion that seemed to be on almost every per-on's lips yesterday. So far as known no new developments in the

As stated in yesterday's TIMES Sheriff Lacy went to San Bernardino Wednesday evening to see if the Mexican who had been arrested at North Ontario and who was bearrested at North Ontario and who was being held by Sherifi Seymour at San Bernardino, was Francisco Torres, as thought by the San Bernardino officers. When Sherifi Lacy-left he told The Times reporter he thought in all probability Sherifi Seymour had the right man, but he would telegraph word here as soon as he got to San Bernardino. Shortly after 9 o'clock the following telegram was received:

ing telegram was received:

San Beinardin, Aug. 3, 1892.

Can't see prisoner tonight. Officers all gone except night watch. Theo Lacy.

It was confidently expected that word would be received early yesterday morning whither or not the man was the one wanted here, but the word did not come, and as a result there was much speculation as to the result of the officer's visit. As there were several officers here who were waiting to hear from San Bernardino before taking up other evidence in their possession, some information from the Sheriff was anxiously looked for.

District Attorney Sanborn has forwarded lintormation from the Sheriff was anxiously looked for.

District Attorney Sanborn has forwarded a message to Gov. Markham, asking for a reward of not less than $500 from the State for the arrest and return of Torres: The District Attorney asked for the reward on the grounds that the murdered man was endeavoring to enforce the law of the State, and by so doing met his death from the hands of a notorious criminal. An answer is expected from the Governor today.
A telephone message was received from Sheriff Lacy last evening, stating that the Mexican held by Sheriff Seymour was not Torres.

Mexican neid by Sherin Seymour was not Torres.

Detective Insley of Los Angeles arrived last evening and at once had an interview with "Keno" Wilson and Constable Landell of Anaheim. These officers still adhere to their former theory that Torres is in the hills not ten miles from this city, and at once began to plan for a mounted trip in search of him.

BLOODHOUNDS SUGGESTED high-handed assassin who is hiding in the mountains, has suggested to officers and others the necessity of the introduction of bloodhounds on the trail. There is not a county seat in the State that is farther than one hour's ride from the mountains, and these mountains being the rendezvous for almost all fugitives from justice makes it absolutely necessary for something to be done to better enable officers of the law to further the ends of justice. If the old Mexican's story is true, and Francisco Torres sat beneath a bush on the mountain side near the barn where he murdered his victim, all day Sunday, and watched the officers come and go from the premises, how easy it would have been for a bloodhound to run him down in five or ten minutes' time. In a country where criminals have such favorable hiding places it is but natural that they should congregate and their daring increase as their chances of escape from punishment decrease. With a good bloodhound service in the State, crime would surely be checked; the mountains no longer would conceal the army of horse-thieves, train-robbers, highwaymen, murderers, and violators of the law in varicus ways, that they now shelter and protect from the strong arm of the law, the mountains, has suggested to officers and us ways, that they now shelter and pro-ect from the strong arm of the law, the text from the strong arm of the law, the Collis train-robbers could soon be traced to their hiding place and the whereabouts of Francisco Torres would no doubt be known in a few hours' time.

Word came here last evening that Torres had been seen in the hills northeast of this city Wednesday evening. Detectives "Keno" Wilson Insiev of Los Angeles and Constable Jack Landell of Anaheim left last night mounted for the hills. Many people here still believe the Mexican in San Bernardino to be Torres. They believe that the message from Sheriff Lacy to be only a blind and are looking for the Sheriff and prisoner to arrive by private conveyance tonight. Parties will remain on watch all night. Sheriff Lacy telephoned that he would be home on the 9:31 train this morning.

THE LAMB-POLLARD TROUBLE. Another scene of the Lamb-Pollard trouble was enacted a few days ago at West minster, in which one of the minor actors minster, in which one of the minor actors took a leading part. Lamb and Pollard met at a store, and it is reported that each reached for his gun without saying a word. Frank Cook, one of the Cook brothers and a friend of Lamb, taking in the situation, drew his gun and walked across the room to where Pollard was standing, when both Cook and Pollard turned and walked outside, separating at the door without speaking to one another, but making up the denciency of words in well-meaning looks.

THE NAME SETTLED IT.

A marriage license was issued Wednesday to H. W. B. Young, aged 28 years, of Anaheim, and C. A. Gaudette, aged 28 years, of Los Angeles. From the names given on the application for the license it was rather difficult to tell which was tother or who was which. The two persons evidently had an understanding, for as soon as the license was issued they repaired to the parsonage of the M. E. Church and were happily married. The fact that they now announce themselves as Mr. and Mrs. Young indicate that C. A. Gaudette was a woman. THE NAME SETTLED IT.

But all arguments were wasted on Uncle until the box office was besieged by people who demanded their money back, on the ground that they had not seen what they had paid for. This naturally had the desired effect and Uncle "gener-onsly" allowed his men to play out the game under protest.

Both Balsz and Hoffman worked: like Trojans and the hot weather limbered up everybody on the field. Glenalvin and Sharp both made errors, but they were on hard chances, while Capt. Pete Sweeney gathered in the hard ones and fell down on easy chances.

At the opening of the eighth inning the score stood b to 1 in favor of the visitors. Then Tredway opened with a two-bagger, Sweeney's error gave. McCauley a life, Glenalvin sacrificed them up a peg-and them up a peg and they scored on Newman's ingle.

In the ninth Stafford walked to first, Wright's hit forced him at second and Sharp's error left Tredway safe. Then, with two out, McCauley scored both Wright and Tredway with a three-bagger, tying the score. The Angels could do nothing in the tenth, but for the visitors Hulen's wide throw left Danny Sweeney safe, Hanley sacrificed him to second and he scored on Levy's single, winning the game. diately after the ball game.

McDonald should adopt a rule about throwing in new balls and then stick to it. In Wednesday's game only two balls were used and in the eighth inning McCauley fouled them both over the stand. A new ball was called for and was tossed down a moment before one of the bat-scarred balls was thrown in, but McDonald put in the old mushy ball, which could not be hit out. Exactly the opposite thing was done yesterday when San Francisco was at the bat.

RAILBOAD AFFAIRS.

Pining-cars on the Sants Fe—To Better the Atlantic and Pacific. Information comes from Chicago that the Santa Fé Company will carry out its original dea of running dining-cars on the lines, a step the company was pre-wented from taking by an injunction or the petition of Harvey, who, by a concome, operates all eating-houses on the system. It is said that the railroad with make some liberal arrangement with Harvey by which he will operate the cars for his own advantage. This arrangement provides for putting the new dining-cars into service at an early

The Bliss Bros. will also exhibit thirty-five cases of their dried fruit.

Ventura county sent two telegraph orders yesterday for display jars. This is the fifth order they have given in the last month. The amount this county will spend for glassware will be about $1000. This county was the last to begin work but promises to verify the promise that the last shall be first, as it has put up more fruit than the whole six counties together.

E. Dunham has sent down a sample of black-cap raspberries from his La Canada ranch, and a branch of prunes three feet long with 187 prunes on it.

The women of Los Angeles are taking a deep interest in World's Fair Matters. The Native Daughters of La Esperama Parlor are collecting historical relics for exhibition at the World's Fair. Many valuable relics have already been collected and more are wanted in time for the annual exhibition of the State to be held in San Francisco next month. Any one having any relics relative to the history of California, or any soverir of pieneer days should communicate at once with the secretary of the Native Daughters, Miss Franc McCreery, No. 911 South Hope street. Mrs. J. F. Jenkins, corner Adams and Budiong streets, is preparing for exhibition at Chicago a tapestry picture representing the surrender of Mary Queen of Scotts to the Confederate Lords, in 1567. The study is six by four feet, and will contain when completed, thirty-five men and women, four horses, four banners, a large tree with foreground of grass, shrubbery and other accessories. The Queen is mounted on a horse elegantly caparisoned, her costume being of royal purple. Mounted attendants follow—Highlanders in bright Scotch plaids, with battle axes and spears. Mrs. Jenkins began har work eight years ago. The shading and harmony of colors are so perfect that at a distance of a few feet the most critical observer would consider it an elegant oil painting. Mrs. Jenkins has a companion piece known as "Returned from the Chase," which is smaller in size but contains 1,250,000 stitches. Several valuable prizes have been awarded this picture at State fairs, and one at the St. Louis Exposition of 1874, when a gold medal and special prize were awarded.

Today's ascension will be made in a smaller balloon than that to be used on the long trip, but the aeronaut will remain up in the celestial depths all night, if possible, so as to accustom himself to the hardships he must necessarily encounter on his transcontinental trip.

San Francisco's Summer Trotting Meeting
The summer meeting of the Pacific Coast Trotting-horse Breeders' Associa-Coast Trotting-horse Breeders' Association, the largest organization of breeders in the world, opens at the Bay District track tomorrow and continues on the following Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The entry list this year is larger than that of any of the preceding meetings, and the prospects for its success, beth from a sperting and financial standpoint, are unusually bright. The horses entered in the various events include the speediest harness horses on the Coast, and as H. M. La Rue of Sacramento has been secured as starting judge fair play is assured to all comers.

Today's programme consists of the 2:17 class trot, for which Wanda, Richmond, Jr., Guide, Flora M and George Washington will compete, a 2:30 class trot and a 2:25 pacing race.

WHAT'S # USE

About competition when we are sweeping the prices when we are sweeping them so clean that every article is a real solid bargain, a cut and slash from regular rates to such an extent that in plain terms we are working for glory. Sweeping our vast warerooms of a lot of stock that must be moved that must be turned into bullion. This is our aim, our present endeavor. We cut below the water's edge, we want to hear the rush, the roar of a busy business; we lake the rattle of the restive crowds as they surge in and out of the portals of our establishment. It is merry music to the merchant's ear, more especially when satisfaction is slawn on each countenance by reason of our sweeping
